

FAHEEM GHAFLOOR

Final Year BCom Informatics Student | Web Design | Technological Support

faheemghafoor.ghafoor@gmail.com

076 422 8472

Johannesburg | Gauteng

---

Dear Hiring Manager,

Enthusiastically driven by the idea of supporting business infrastructures with the idea of creating new systems from just a concept with technology. Faheem delivers a sense of reassurance to any future organisation. Proven himself to be an asset to his current employers, an absorbent individual with an exceptional record of providing an innovative and proactive approach to problem solving, is interested in pursuing a progressive career within your company.

Faheem gained intermediate knowledge in network infrastructures, web design, information technology, and business administration. He is easily able to identify issues in the technical and information infrastructure further providing solutions achieving infrastructure security and optimisation. Faheem improved productivity of daily operational activities by prioritising day-to-day tasks with understanding and tact. A final year BCOM Informatics student at The University of Pretoria, he provided value and technological solutions based on knowledge absorbed and trending innovation. While studying, Faheem took a proactive approach to his career being employed at Mohamed's Butchery.

Goal-driven with a supportive presence, colleagues recognise Faheem as a dedicated and consistent collaborator, who is accurate with solutions based on evidence and research. He ensures that the business operational activities align with company policies, contributing to the overall success of the organisation. With the aim to secure employment at a company that maintains a competitive advantage in the 21st century, this summarised venture proves Faheem exceeds expectations in any environment.

Thank you kindly for your perusal.